

Intensive individual language training

With Regina Coeli's intensive individual language training, you'll learn a foreign language quickly and effectively. You learn to communicate in situations that matter to you, in private lessons with a personal team of language trainers. With us, your language training yields a high return on investment because you can immerse yourself in the language every day.

Why opt for the tried-and-tested formula of the Nuns of Vught?

- You want to learn to communicate effectively and with greater self-confidence in a foreign language in a short time.
- You have a clear goal in mind and want to work towards it.
- You want to be able to apply what you've learned straight away in the real world.
- You want a flexible approach to your programme and to have it tailored to your needs.

Customised to your goals

You and your native-speaker trainers focus on your own predefined goals during your course. As a rule, your programme consists of four hours of private lessons and four study hours each day, supplemented by activities that help you and other students to take your language skills to the next level.

Your programme includes lunch and dinner, which gives you a chance to use the language in a more informal setting outside your lessons and study hours. In this way, you stay actively involved in learning the language throughout the day.

Intake interview

We invite you for an intake interview in which you discuss the situations you need the language for with a trainer. This allows us to determine your current skill levels and the levels you need to attain. Based on this information, the trainer then recommends a training programme to suit your learning objectives, how you learn and the amount of time you have.

Various forms of language training

An intensive training programme of five consecutive days is a good choice for many of our students. We sometimes advise more days of training if that's what's needed to reach someone's goals. It could also be that a shorter programme would meet your needs or that a student is better off with a programme spread over a longer time span.

Our language weekends are a good fit for people who are short on time during the working week or who would find it challenging to concentrate for a full week.

Stay the night

The intensive programme puts your brain to work. That's why it's essential to strike the right balance between effort and relaxation. Besides taking on-site yoga classes, you can also keep up your own sports routine by walking, running or using Regina Coeli's fitness facilities.

Staying at Regina Coeli or a nearby hotel allows you to focus on learning the language properly. Our Eikenheuvel accommodation wing is adjacent to the language institute; the other hotels are right in the vicinity. When booking your language course, you can let us know whether you'd like us to book your overnight stay for you.
