

Language Weekend

A Regina Coeli Language Weekend helps you learn a foreign language quickly and effectively. You learn to communicate in situations that matter to you in private lessons with a personal team of language trainers. Because you can immerse yourself in the language for a whole weekend, it's a highly efficient way to improve your language skills.

Why choose a language weekend with the Nuns of Vught?

- Your time on workdays is precious, and you can't free up enough of it during the working week or focus properly on a language course.
- You want to learn to communicate effectively and with greater self-confidence in a foreign language in a short time.
- You have a clear goal in mind and want to work towards it.
- You want to be able to apply what you've learned straight away in the real world.

Customised to your goals

You and your native-speaker trainers focus on your own predefined goals during your course. As a rule, your programme consists of seven hours of private lessons, seven study hours, and four lessons to practise the language with other students and take your skills to the next level. On Friday and Saturday, you dine with other students and a trainer and speak the language for which you're working on your skills. That allows you to use the language in a more informal setting outside your lessons and study hours. We make every moment of the day useful and productive for you. On Sunday, you can wrap up your weekend with an inviting drink with fellow students and trainers.

Intake interview

We invite you for an intake interview in which you discuss the situations you need the language for with a trainer. This allows us to determine your current skill levels and the levels you need to attain. Based on this input, our team of language trainers will design a weekend programme that suits your learning objectives well and provides you with the best possible return on investment.

Learn more about the intake interview >

If your goals cannot be met in the course of a weekend, we will discuss with you whether other forms of training are possible, such as combining a weekend with several training days during the working week or coming for more than one weekend.

Stay the night

The intensive programme puts your brain to work. That's why it's essential to strike the right balance between effort and relaxation. You can also keep up your own sports routine by walking, running or using Regina Coeli's fitness facilities.

Spending the weekend at Regina Coeli allows you to focus on learning the language optimally. Our Eikenheuvel accommodation wing is adjacent to the institute. When booking your language course, you can let us know whether you'd like to stay the night with us.

More information about accommodation >

Rates

The costs for a Language Weekend, including the Regina Coeli package and two nights, are as follows:

- For private bookings or bookings by organisations not subject to VAT: € 2,852.50, including 9% VAT on the Regina Coeli package and overnight stays.
- For business bookings: € 2,620.50, excluding 21% VAT on training courses and 9% VAT on the Regina Coeli package and overnight stays.

For additional information about our rates, please visit the rates page on our website.

Register now or schedule an intake interview?

Please contact us if you have any questions after reading this information. If you would like to register now for a Language Weekend or if you would like additional information, please contact our Client Services team by telephone.

You can also fill in the application form on our website. We will then contact you within two days to schedule an intake interview.

WE LOOK FORWARD TO SEEING YOU IN VUGHT!